EXPERIENCE

Nawa Lodin is an associate in the Washington, D.C., office of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, where she is member of the firm's digital health industry group and its healthcare practice. Nawa represents clients in a full range of corporate transactions and compliance matters and provides guidance on a wide variety of state and federal laws and regulations including: the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), Medicare and Medicaid fraud and abuse laws, the Stark Law, the Anti-kickback statute, corporate practice of medicine, use of artificial intelligence and machine learning, fee-splitting, and scope of licensure compliance.

Nawa has extensive experience on healthcare transactions, including mergers and acquisitions, venture and growth equity financings, and capital markets transactions, and has represented clients in acquisitions and financings involving a wide variety of healthcare providers, digital health, and life sciences companies. Nawa handles a range of healthcare matters including advising start-ups, drafting and negotiating clinical trial agreements, medical staff issues, telemedicine matters and providing healthcare compliance plans and training. Prior to joining the firm, Nawa was an associate at Simpson Thacher & Bartlett. Before that, she was an associate at Goodwin Procter.

Nawa serves on the Board of Directors for Women for Afghan Women, the largest non-governmental Afghan women's right organization in the world. She is fluent in Dari.
