EXPERIENCE

Grace Beck is an associate in the Washington, D.C., office of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, where she focuses on national security and international trade regulatory matters. She advises domestic and foreign entities on matters before the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS) and other foreign direct investment (FDI) reviews. Grace also counsels clients on compliance and enforcement pertaining to export controls and information and communications technology and services (ICTS) supply chain regulations administered by the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS), economic sanctions administered by the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC), and anti-money laundering laws administered by the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN) and other financial regulators.

While in law school, Grace served as the legal intern at the U.S. Department of Commerce for the Office of Information and Communications Technology and Services (OICTS) and the Office of Chief Counsel for BIS (OCC/IS), and for the Office of General Counsel at the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA). Prior to law school, Grace worked as an administrator at a think tank specializing in international affairs and was a restaurateur.
